Section B (Depth Studies)

Answer any one question.

At the end of the examination, fasten all your work securely together.
The number of marks is given in brackets [] at the end of each question or part question.

This document consists of 16 printed pages and 4 blank pages.

SECTION A: CORE CONTENT

Answer any two questions from this Section.

- 1 Study the illustration, and then answer the questions which follow.

The Emperor of Austria abandoning Vienna and heading to Innsbruck, May 1848.

- (a) Describe the revolutionary events in Austria in 1848. [5]
- (b) Why was 1848 known as the 'year of revolutions'? [7]
- (c) 'The revolutions of 1848 failed to change anything.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. [8]

2 Study the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

By skilfully omitting a few phrases Bismarck made the telegram insulting to France, when it was published in the German newspapers. The people of Paris were infuriated. Napoleon III was reluctant to declare war but was pushed by the strength of opinion.

From a British school textbook published in 1985.

- (a) What problems faced the Frankfurt Parliament when it was set up? [5]
- (b) Why was Austria able to re-establish its influence in Germany by 1850? [7]
- (c) 'The unification of Germany was brought about by the activities of countries other than Prussia.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. [8]

3 Study the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

On 11 February 1889, the Meiji Emperor, now 37 years of age, in a brief ceremony handed the first written constitution of Japan to the Prime Minister. This action demonstrated the important fact that the constitution was a gift from the Emperor to his subjects.

From a history book about Japan, published in 1960.

- (a) In what ways could Japan have been considered 'undeveloped' before the period of the Meiji? [5]
- (b) Why did Japan sign an alliance with Britain in 1902? [7]
- (c) How significant for Japan was the war with Russia, 1904–5? Explain your answer. [8]

4 Study the illustration, and then answer the questions which follow.

An illustration of the assassination of Franz Ferdinand and his wife in Sarajevo, June 1914.

- (a) Describe the events of 28 June 1914 leading to the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand. [5]
- (b) Why did Britain feel increasingly threatened by Germany's policies after 1890? [7]
- (c) 'The main reason why a World War broke out in August 1914 was the German invasion of Belgium.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. [8]

5 Study the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

The Reparations Commission decided that the total to be paid should be £6600 million, in yearly instalments. These might be paid in gold, or currency earned from the sale of Germany's goods abroad, or in shipments of coal, iron, timber and other materials to the allies.

From a modern history book.

- (a) What were Germany's main territorial losses under the Treaty of Versailles? [5]
- (b) Why did the Treaty of Versailles cause problems for Germany from 1919 to 1923? [7]

- (b) Why did Hitler want to take over Czechoslovakia? [7]
- (c) How far was the policy of appeasement justified? Explain your answer. [8]

7 Study the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

This war is not as in the past; whoever occupies a territory also imposes on it the occupiers' own social system. Everyone imposes their own system as far as their army has power to do so. It cannot be otherwise.

Stalin speaking in 1945 about the actions of the USSR in Eastern Europe.

- (a) What was decided at the Yalta Conference of February 1945? [5]
- (b) Why was it difficult to reach agreements at the Potsdam Conference? [7]
- (c) Which country had the more successful policies towards Europe between 1945 and 1949 – the USA or the USSR? Explain your answer. [8]

8 Study the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

The Cuba Crisis was a triumph of Soviet foreign policy and a personal triumph in my own career. Today Cuba exists as an independent socialist country right in front of America. Cuba's existence is good propaganda.

We behaved with dignity and forced the United States to demobilise and to recognise Cuba.

From Khrushchev's memoirs, written in 1971.

- (a) Describe how relations between the USA and Cuba became worse when Castro took power. [5]
- (b) Why did the Bay of Pigs invasion take place in April 1961? [7]
- (c) 'Khrushchev gained a victory in the Cuban Missile Crisis.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. [8]

DEPTH STUDY E: SOUTHERN AFRICA IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

17 Study the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

In 1930, at the age of twenty-two, I came to Johannesburg looking for work. There were hundreds of girls looking for jobs. I returned to our farm and became a strong opponent of the government, believing the South African party was to blame for our poverty and unemployment. I later returned and found work. I began to fight for my rights and the rights of fellow workers. The more I saw, the more I realised how necessary it was for workers to become organised. The first strike in which I took a leading part was in 1936. I was arrested.

An African woman describing why she became a trade unionist.

- (a) Describe the development of black trade unionism in the 1920s. [5]
