for the guidance of teachers

0510 ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

0510/21

Paper 2 (Reading and Writing – Extended), maximum raw mark 84

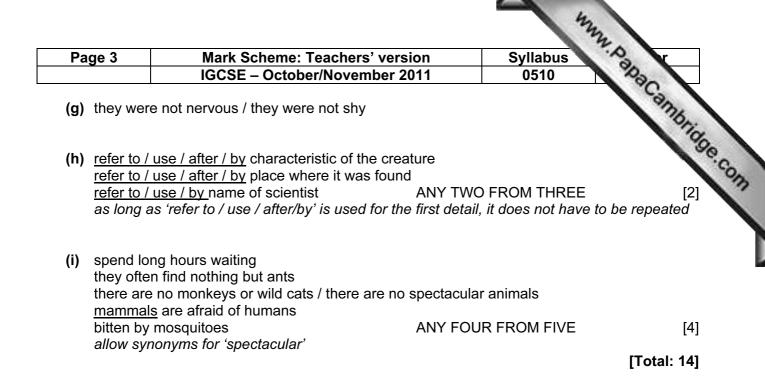

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2011 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

Section C

Max total for Section C: 21

The sentence must be written in the first person.

embridge.com Examples: I have plenty of experience in sailing and windsurfing and I decided to try a new water sports activity.

I want to try a new water sports activity which I have not experienced before.

For the sentence, award up to 2 marks as follows:

no fewer than 12 and no more than 20 words; proper sentence construction; correct 2 marks: spelling, punctuation and grammar; relevant to context.

no fewer than 12 and no more than 20 words; proper sentence construction; 1-3 errors 1 mark: of punctuation/spelling/grammar that do not obscure meaning; relevant to context.

more than 3 errors of punctuation/spelling/grammar; and/or irrelevant to context, and/or 0 marks: not a proper sentence; and/or fewer than 12 words or more than 20 words.

Absence of a full stop at the end should be considered as 1 punctuation error. Absence of an upper case letter at the beginning should be considered as 1 punctuation error. Omission of a word in a sentence should be considered as 1 grammar error.

Exercise 4 A world of wonders

Correct responses only apply if they are placed under the correct sub-heading (as detailed below). Only one mark may be awarded per line. Add the correct answers to give a total out of 8. Remember that this exercise is marked for content (reading), not language.

Details of Miyazaki's study

- overflowing with models / overflowing with books accept synonyms for 'overflowing'
- sketches on the walls / sketches pinned to the walls
- photographs on (work)desk / drawings on (work)desk
- on his desk clues to his interests

Details of Miyazaki's character

- patient
- private / rarely gives interviews / rarely appears in public accept synonyms for 'rarely'
- dedicated to his work / will spend 14 hours a day on work
- obsession with flying

Exercise 5 Some like it cool

Content (up to 6 marks)

Health benefits:

- fights colds / fights (other) illnesses
- repairs the body /refreshes the body
- helps recovery from injury
- invigorates muscles (with oxygen)
- helps cells (in the body) to work (better)
- forget about anxieties and worries in your job
- boosts your mood / gives you a more optimistic outlook
- treats some forms of depression

Language (up to 4 marks)

- 0 marks: meaning obscure because of density of language errors and serious problems with expression/nothing of relevance
- 1 mark: expression weak/reliance on lifting without discrimination
- 2 marks: expression limited/some reliance on lifting from the original, but some sense of order
- 3 marks: expression good, with attempts to group and sequence ideas in own words
- 4 marks: expression very good; clear, orderly grouping and sequencing largely in own words

Exercise 6 Unexpected day's holiday from school Exercise 7 Learn online at home

The following general instructions, and table of marking criteria, apply to both exercises.

Cambridge.com Award the answer a mark for content (C) [out of 9] and a mark for language (L) [out of 9] in accordance with the General Criteria table that follows.

Content covers relevance (i.e. whether the piece fulfils the task and the awareness of purpose/audience/register) and the development of ideas (i.e. the detail/explanation provided and how enjoyable it is to read).

Language covers style (i.e. complexity of vocabulary and sentence structure) and accuracy (of grammar, spelling, punctuation and use of paragraphs).

When deciding on a mark for content or language, first of all decide which mark band is most appropriate. There will not necessarily be an exact fit. Then decide between 2 marks within that mark band. Use the lower mark if it only just makes it into the band and the upper mark if it fulfils all the requirements of the band but doesn't quite make it into the band above.

When deciding on a mark for content, look at both relevance and development of ideas. First ask yourself whether the writing fulfils the task, in terms of points to be covered and the length. If it does, it will be in at least the 4-5 mark band.

When deciding on a mark for language, look at both the style and the accuracy of the language. • A useful starting point would be first to determine whether errors intrude. If they do not, it will be in at least the 4-5 mark band.

The use of paragraphs should not be the primary basis of deciding which mark band the work is in. Look first at the language used and once you have decided on the appropriate mark band, you can use the paragraphing as a factor in helping you to decide whether the work warrants the upper or lower mark in the mark band.

If the essay is considerably shorter than the stated word length, it should be put in mark band 2-3 for content or lower for not fulfilling the task. The language mark is likely to be affected and is unlikely to be more than one band higher than the content mark.

If the essay is totally irrelevant and has nothing to do with the question asked, it should be given 0 marks for Content and Language, even if it is enjoyable to read and fluent.

If the essay is partly relevant and therefore in mark band 2-3, the full range of marks for language is available.
