Paper 22 (Reading and Writing – Extended), maximum raw mark 84

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

CIE will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

CIE is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2009 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

SECTION D

The sentence must be written in the first person AND in the past tense.

Sample sentence × 2 sentences:

I was given the responsibility for some low level security, such as locking and unlocking the newspaper archives.

I worked as an attendant and I explained the history of the museum (and the garden).

I dressed up as a 19th century person and talked to the visitors.

For the sentence, award up to 2 marks as follows:

- 2 marks: proper sentence construction; correct spelling, punctuation and grammar; gives the information asked for.
- 1 mark: proper sentence construction; 1–3 errors of punctuation and/or spelling and/or grammar (without obscuring meaning); gives the information asked for.
- 0 marks: more than 3 errors of punctuation and/or spelling and/or grammar and/or does not give the information asked for; and/or not a proper sentence; and/or meaning obscure; fewer than 12 words or more than 20 words. Two sentences.

Aims of free divers

Exercise 5 Games-based learning

Content (up to 6 marks)

Tick and number each point (up to a maximum of 6):

How Rodriguez thought pupils would gain from games-based learning

- √1 improve ability to learn
- √2 learn in a more relaxed way
- √3 help them to socialise
- √4 improve motivation / motivate pupils (not normally keen on traditional school work)
- √5 benefit all kinds of learners

How the pupils actually benefited

- √6 improvement in maths / mathematical test scores
- √7 helped (younger) children to create words
- √8 enhanced (younger) children's reading / spelling (while dancing)
- √9 helped creative writing
- ✓10 students / boys wrote interesting and continuous dialogue

Language (up to 4 marks)

- 0 marks: meaning obscure because of density of language errors and serious problems with expression / nothing of relevance.
- 1 mark: expression weak / reliance on lifting without discrimination.
- 2 marks: expression limited / some reliance on lifting from the original, but some sense of order.
- 3 marks: expression good, with attempts to group and sequence ideas in own words.
- 4 marks: expression very good; clear, orderly grouping and sequencing largely in own words.

Exercise 6: Sports and leisure centre

Exercise 7: Tourists

The following general instructions and table of marking criteria apply to both exercises.

www.papacambridge.com Award the answer a mark for content (C) [out of 9] and a mark for language (L) [out of 9] in accordance with the General Criteria table that follows.

- Content covers relevance (i.e. whether the piece fulfils the task and the awareness of purpose / audience / register) and the development of ideas (i.e. the detail / explanation provided and how enjoyable it is to read).
- Language covers style (i.e. complexity of vocabulary and sentence structure) and accuracy (of grammar, spelling, punctuation and use of paragraphs).
- When deciding on a mark for content or language, first of all decide which mark band is most appropriate. There will not necessarily be an exact fit. Then decide between 2 marks within that mark band. Use the lower mark if it only just makes it into the band and the upper mark if it fulfils all the requirements of the band but doesn't quite make it into the band above.
- When deciding on a mark for content, look at both relevance and development of ideas. First ask yourself whether the writing fulfils the task, in terms of points to be covered and the length. If it does, it will be in at least the 4-5 mark band.
- When deciding on a mark for language, look at both the style and the accuracy of the language. • A useful starting point would be first to determine whether errors intrude. If they do not, it will be in at least the 4-5 mark band.
- The use of paragraphs should not be the primary basis of deciding which mark band the work is in. Look first at the language used and once you have decided on the appropriate mark band, you can use the paragraphing as a factor in helping you to decide whether the work warrants the upper or lower mark in the mark band.
- If the essay is considerably less than the stated word length, it should be put in mark band 2-3 for content or lower for not fulfilling the task.
- If the essay is totally irrelevant and has nothing to do with the question asked, it should be given • 0 marks for content and language, even if it is enjoyable to read and fluent.
- If the essay is partly relevant and therefore in mark band 2-3, the full range of marks for language is available.
